Ladies' Aid Society Manifests Appro-ciation of George H. Prier's Kind-ness-Charles Calensen's Burjal in

Priday evening the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church, with their husbands, carried out a plan which had been decided upon furing the week. To the number of fifty they gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gardner, and George H. Prior was sent for, he being satirely unaware of the plan. Mr. Prior, who has pronounced artistic talunt with pen and brush, has for years used this talent freely for the ladies' benefit, and as chorwister of the church cheir has always been ready to prepare musical programmes for them. As he entered the room where the company were assembled he met Miss Mary M. Brown, who presented him a Seth Thomas clock of solid oak, her presentation speech being an original poem. Mr. Prior finally recovered his appreciation of the kindly thought which prompted the gift.

A social time followed with music, including duets by Mrs. Prior and Mrs. B. R. Gardner, and a trio by the same ladies and Miss Alice A. Brown. Later cake and ice cream were served.

The Ox Coming Back Into Popularity. Representative Charles S. Hyde of Canterbury says that the ox is coming back into its own. The high price of horses, together with the increased cost of keeping them, is causing the farmer to again turn to yoked cattle as a means of doing much of the heavy work on the farm, and while they cannot be expected to entirely replace the horse, he believes that they are again coming into more common use. Mr. Hyde has at the present time eleven yoke of oxen. He finds them a profitable and valueable investment.

Mrs. William Taylor. Feneral services for Mrs. Louise Taylor, wife of William Taylor, were held at her home on the West Side Saturday afternoon, Rev. Ralph S. Death of Martin W. Crosby.

Martin Warren Crosby, 85, one of the oldest residents of the town of Brooklyn, died at his home in that place about 8 o'clock Saturday night, following an illness of about a month, although he had been incapacitated for six or seven years, as the result of paralysis, due to a fall from a wagon. Mr. Crosby was bern in Lisbon, Conn., the youngest of a family of nine children, tracing their New England ancestry back to 1636. He lived in Lisbon until 1853, when he removed to Brooklyn, devoting all his life to the pursuit of agriculture, excepting a few years when he was engaged in mercantile enterprises. In 1861 Mr. Crosby was married to Miss Abbie Dexter of Killingly. Mr. Crosby has been a deacon of the Congregational church at Brooklyn for about twoscore years, and was one of the most respected citizens of that town. Mr. Crosby isaves a daughter, Mary A. Crosby of Brooklyn, and a son, H. D. Crosby of Brooklyn, who is 94 years old, and Miss Jerusha Crosby of Chaplin, who observed her 190th anniversary in January and is probably the oldest weman in Windham county.
